

Application Development Services

Business Outcomes
@Disruptor Speed

Better Applications, Faster.

In today's business, everything is driven by technology. When technology falls behind, so does the competitiveness of your business. Whether you are supporting internal needs or developing customer-facing applications, Presidio gives you the ability to deliver.

APPLICATION DEVELOPMENT SERVICES

Presidio's AppDev practice offers the expertise and resources you need to meet business demands.

Application Modernization

Update your business-critical applications to take advantage of all of the capabilities modern technology can provide. Leverage cloud-native technology to transform legacy systems into scalable, feature-rich applications that deliver ongoing value to your business.

Refactoring

Adopt a more modern, API-driven architecture for greater efficiency and scalability. Even if you have already transitioned your applications to the cloud, they still may not be performing at potential. Improving the design of your existing code base enhances essentials like security, compliance, and functionality.

AppDev Advisory Services

Increase development velocity so you can keep up with the competition and get your engineering tasks done. Technology is the linchpin for business success, and finding quality technical resources with the skill set to develop at capacity has become challenging. Presidio acts as a change agent in your organization, bringing knowledge of the latest and greatest technologies and methodologies to accelerate development so your team can take on additional workstreams.

Enhancements

Make your applications more intelligent. Presidio's AppDev team works closely with our Data & Analytics practice to help you incorporate the value of data into your enterprise. Leverage artificial intelligence (AI) and machine learning (ML) to add robotic process automation, bot-type functionality, and other data-driven features to your existing applications.

Our Approach

Rapid Supported Application Development

When you're working with large consultancies, it's usually their way or the highway. Presidio steadfastly believes in a customer-centric approach. We meet you exactly where you are and develop a game plan to move forward, applying development methodologies that fit your environment and introducing improvements that support rapid application delivery.

Working in concert with our DevOps & Automation, Cloud Migration, and Data & Analytics practices, we'll help you deliver better applications, faster.

Achieve Business Outcomes
@Disruptor Speed.

Our global team has locations in the U.S. and India to provide premier-quality, continuous development quickly and at scale.

Contact Presidio today

www.presidio.com