The smarter way to work starts here

Businesses everywhere are transforming how they operate and how people get work done. Apple devices, including iPhone, iPad and Mac that are used across industries to meet workforce requirements that support teams in the office, and on the move. Our support services create a modern workplace experience that enhances productivity and supports employee engagement.

Real transformation comes from deploying the right tools in the right way, at the right time.

Presidio helps businesses simplify and scale deployment of Apple devices, delivering measurable results from day one. From initial rollout to full-scale transformation, we help you build an Apple device strategy that aligns with your goals, your teams, and your vision for the future of work.

Build a modern device strategy

Workplace expectations have evolved. Employees want flexibility, and businesses need security and scalability. With Presidio, Apple devices become a strategic enabler of a modern, agile workplace.

Designed to deliver fast, intuitive, and consistent user experiences, Presidio supports your teams in productivity, efficiency and mitigating disruptions.

Built-in security features protect data without requiring constant manual intervention. Presidio enables businesses to integrate these benefits into a wider IT strategy, ensuring every deployment is optimised for performance and security.

Our approach supports the transition to a user-centric workplace. Beyond device procurement, Presidio helps you embed Apple devices into your IT ecosystem, from launching an Apple Pilot Programme to scaling company-wide rollouts, delivering measurable outcomes, improving productivity, lowering support costs, and enhancing workforce satisfaction.

From frontline roles to knowledge workers, Presidio ensures Apple solutions are tailored to specific job requirements, streamlining workflows and accelerating performance for every user.

Start strong with an Apple Pilot

Our Apple Pilot Programme gives you an entry point to Apple device adoption. We identify where Apple devices will deliver the most value, configure solutions for key personas, and build proof points to secure stakeholder buy-in and support future scaling.

From there, we help you test, measure, and learn. We turn insights into tangible results that engage stakeholders, align internal teams, and support future decision-making. It's an approach designed to give you confidence, clarity, and to make sure your first steps lead to long-term success.

Take control with simplified device management

With the right tools and Presidio's expert support, managing Apple devices becomes even more streamlined, secure, and scalable.

Presidio integrates Apple Business Manager (ABM) and leading Mobile Device Management (MDM) solutions into your environment, enabling secure, compliant, zero-touch deployment. Devices can be shipped directly to users, configured remotely through device enrolment, and updated consistently, all while maintaining policy enforcement across the estate.

Our approach delivers robust device security, streamlines day-to-day IT operations, and enhances visibility across your device estate. For more mature Apple customers, we help refine, scale, and optimise management infrastructure to support continued growth and adaptability.

Better employee experience

Today's workforce values flexibility and a positive user experience alongside functionality.

From offering Mac as an onboarding option to enabling seamless provisioning and personalised configuration, every interaction is designed to be secure, intuitive, and fast. Flexible financing options and Device-as-a-Service (DaaS) models make it possible to deliver choice at scale while preserving capital for other priorities.

With the right tools in place, businesses can see measurable gains in productivity, satisfaction, and engagement. Presidio helps turn device choice into business value, boosting retention and enabling smarter, more efficient ways of working.

Lifecycle management and managed services

Your investment in Apple devices should deliver value long after deployment.

Presidio's Managed Services provide complete lifecycle support, ensuring devices stay secure, efficient, and up to date, while freeing IT teams to focus on innovation, not maintenance.

From proactive health monitoring and patching to repair, refresh, and secure decommissioning, we cover every stage of the lifecycle. With robust managed services, businesses benefit from lower support costs, faster resolution times, and enhanced visibility across their Apple estate. Presidio ensures your devices, users, and IT strategy are future-ready, delivering sustainable value for the long term.

Integrating Apple devices with your broader IT strategy

Apple device adoption shouldn't be an outlier in your IT strategy. Presidio ensures your Apple device deployments integrate seamlessly with your wider infrastructure, including identity management, cloud services, and collaboration tools.

Apple runs seamlessly across Microsoft 365, Google Workspace, and hybrid cloud platforms, to ensure devices work alongside your existing workplace systems. Our approach aligns with your security frameworks, automation processes, and IT service management standards, creating a truly cohesive digital workplace.

The result? Users experience collaboration and increased productivity, wherever they work and IT gains unified control across all devices.

Built for every stage of your journey

Wherever you are in your Apple device journey, Presidio meets you there and adapts to your needs.

If you're just starting out, we help provide the structure, insights, and services to help you build internal confidence and a compelling business case. If you're already using Apple devices at scale, we offer advanced integration, optimisation, and support to help you improve value and extend impact.

Support across the Apple Maturity Curve

Every business takes a different path when it comes to Apple device adoption. Some start small with targeted deployments, while others run Apple devices at scale as part of a fully integrated IT strategy.

Presidio adapts to your stage of maturity, providing the expertise and services you need to move forward without disruption.

Whether you're creating early proof points, managing mid-stage rollouts, or optimising a mature environment, we help you build confidence at every step. Our experience means we can scale with you, from your first pilot through to business-wide transformation that shapes how your teams work and collaborate.

Seamless deployment for long-term value

Presidio streamlines procurement, configuration, and management from day one, ensuring a smooth and efficient transition to your new platform. With tools like Apple Business Manager and leading MDM platforms, we create a secure, scalable foundation that is tailored to your IT strategy.

You'll benefit from local expertise, structured onboarding, and flexible financing options, all designed to build confidence internally and deliver sustainable success.

We also support change management and training, helping teams understand how Apple devices enhance their roles and the customer experience. When people feel equipped and confident, service levels and satisfaction rise across the board.
